Temple Grandin, Ph.D., is the world’s most well-known adult with autism spectrum disorder. She didn’t talk until she was three and a half years old, communicating her frustration instead by screaming, peeping, and humming; when she was diagnosed with autism in 1950, her parents were told she should be institutionalized.

Even though she was considered different in her young school years, she eventually found a mentor who recognized her interests and abilities. She earned a bachelor’s degree in psychology from Franklin Pierce College in 1970, a master’s in animal science from Arizona State University in 1975, and a doctoral degree in animal science from the University of Illinois-Urbana Champaign in 1989. Dr. Grandin has had a successful career as a livestock-handling equipment designer, one of the very few in the world. Half the cattle in the United States are handled in facilities she has designed, which are based on her desire that these processes be humane, and reduce livestock stress, panic, and injury.

Dr. Grandin has become a prominent author and speaker on the subject of autism because, she says she believes some people continue to find it “incomprehensible that the characteristics of autism can be modified and controlled,” adding, “I feel strongly that I am living proof that they can.”

Her fascinating life, with all its challenges and successes, has been well documented. She has been featured on National Public Radio, major television programs, such as the BBC special “The Woman Who Thinks Like a Cow,” ABC’s Primetime Live, The Today Show, 48 Hours and 20/20, and has been written about in many national publications, such as Time magazine, People magazine, Forbes, U.S. News and World Report, and New York Times. Dr. Grandin’s life story was the subject of a 2010 HBO original movie, which won seven Emmys, including Best Made for TV Movie. In the 2010 Time 100 list of the one hundred most influential people in the world, she was named in the “Heroes” category.

Dr. Grandin currently works as a Professor of Animal Science at Colorado State University. She also speaks throughout the world on both autism and cattle handling. Her bestselling books on autism include Thinking in Pictures: My Life with Autism, The Way I See It: A Personal Look at Autism and Asperger’s, Unwritten Rules of Social Relationships, Animals Make Us Human, and her most recent publication, The Autistic Brain: Helping Different Kinds of Minds Succeed.

CEC is pleased to welcome Dr. Grandin as our Keynote Speaker for CEC 2016. Don’t miss her at the Opening General Session on Wednesday, April 13, 5:00 - 6:30 pm!

Past President's Report: Call for Nominations

As I begin my new role as the Past President of the PIONEERS Division I want to thank all the members, especially the Board of Directors, for all the support, advice and work done on behalf of the Division and in support of CEC overall. All of you made my tenure speed by and you made it a pleasure to work on behalf of all PIONEERS.

CEC through the PIONEERS has a treasure trove of experience, wisdom and expertise that must never be forgotten. The foundation of the total organization can be found within the PIONEERS Division. The historical context for all that has been gained in the field of Special Education can be traced back to members of the PIONEERS Division. We need to keep our voices heard loud and clear and I am certain that under the leadership of Mary Ruth Coleman, President and Joan McDonald, President-elect, with the on-going support of our members, the Division will continue to be a positive influence in the future of CEC.

As the Past President, I have the task of organizing a Nominations Committee to select candidates for future officers of the Division. I am asking for volunteers to serve on this Committee and also asking our members to step up and volunteer to serve as an officer of the PIONEERS. If you are interested in serving on the Nominations Committee or in being an officer for 2017 forward, please contact me at: mdthew@gmail.com or call me at: 717-891-2316 or send me a note: 4524 Valley Acres Road, York, PA 17406.

I hope everyone had a fantastic Holiday Season and that 2016 brings you prosperity, good health and loving relationships!

Thank you for all your support!

Mike

Honors and Awards Committee Begins Selection Process for the 2016 Mackie Award

Members of the Pioneers Honors and Awards Committee have been sent information on the criteria and eligibility for the Romaine P. Mackie Leadership Award. Several nominees for the Award have been discussed and support letters have been received and shared.

Each year at the CEC Convention and Expo, a Mackie Award winner is announced. This year will be no different. On Thursday evening, April 14, during the Pioneers Awards Presentation and Social the 2016 Mackie Award winner will be announced. Winners are recognized for their outstanding contributions not just to Pioneers, but their long term commitment to children with special needs and their years of participation in CEC. The list of past Mackie Award winners is a Who's Who in the leadership of CEC and professionals who have made critical contributions in the area of Special Education.

It is not too late to submit a name of a Pioneer who you feel exemplifies the leadership and involvement in CEC that has resulted in positive growth in our profession. Nominations must be made no later than February 26, 2016. Please forward submissions by email to mikeweinroth@aol.com.

Pioneers hopes you will make every effort to attend our upcoming convention in St. Louis, April 13-16, 2016.

Membership Matters

The Pioneer Division as of November 2015 is comprised of 272 CEC members. Of these members, 15 were newly renewed and three were new to the Division. This represents a slight decline over the prior 6 months when our Division membership consisted of 280 members. We have been contacting Division. Likewise we have been contacting all renewed and new members. At this time most contact is made via email since 95% of our members have email addresses.

We are planning to launch a new membership campaign this year for each member to recruit a CEC colleague to the Division. The average age of CEC members has increased and we suspect that many CEC members may not be aware of their eligibility for Pioneers!

We will be focusing on the benefits of sharing our knowledge and legacy to the field, both within and outside of CEC. At this time, the new membership structure has been in place for half a year. The least expensive individual membership includes one division membership with a fee for additional memberships. Pioneers remains among the least expensive. If you have ideas for the membership campaign, please contact President Mary Ruth Coleman or Membership Chair, Susan Fowler.

CEC-PD Collaborates with CEC on the CEC Archive Inventory, Access, and Maintenance

Since 2010 members of CEC-PD have gone to CEC Headquarters at various times during the year to work on updating and completing the inventory listing of the current holdings in the CEC. Materials related to the founding of CEC, governance, advocacy, membership, awards, student activities, CEC's units (Divisions and State/Provincial units) committees, products, conferences, special events, and collections of special papers and photos, oral histories are all part of this important collection.

The Archive inventory is now well underway using the foundation that was provided by June Robinson, who served as the CEC Archivist establishing the collection and maintaining the CEC Archives until her death. There is still much work to be done, but this initial review and updating provides a beginning listing for accessing the materials.

CEC-PD has been connected to the Archives since its founding including as part of its purposes assisting in maintaining the Archives. There is also a special fund within the Pioneers budget (The June Jordan, I have a Dream Fund), that was established to allow for donations to assist with the maintenance of the Archives.

CEC will celebrate its 100th anniversary as an organization in 2022. The materials in the Archives hold a vast treasure of items that will be important during the 100th year and in the years leading to this celebration. Our history provides the strong base that has built the field that we know as special education. Many of the early CEC leaders are the people who we studied in textbooks and some of their initial work and activities are part of the CEC Archives. What a great way recruit and retain our future educators and to honor and acknowledge the legacy of those who were there in the beginning.

If you have articles that may be appropriate for the Archives, please be sure to contact CEC about making these available. If you would like additional information to assist with Archive preservation or wish to make a contribution to this effort, you can contact members of the CEC-PD Board.

Preserving CEC's History

The June Jordan Fund was established in 1994, by the Pioneers Division in honor of June Jordan who was a former CEC staff member. June was instrumental in providing the leadership and support for establishing the Pioneers Division. In addition, she led CEC in the collection of documents and other types of information of historical significance to CEC and the field of special education.

The official title of the fund is “The June Jordan ‘I have a Dream’ Memorial Fund”. The purpose of the fund is to support CEC in maintaining the Archives and history of the Council. The Archives are maintained by a CEC Archivist who holds a non-voting position on the CEC-PD Board. The Fund is supported by direct contributions to the Fund. These funds are then allocated for expenditures to support the expansion and maintenance of the CEC Archives.

In the past, the support for the CEC Archives consisted of providing dollars from the June Jordan Fund to purchase supplies needed by the CEC Archivist, and to provide assistance to the Archivist by other members of the Pioneers Division in preparing and in placing materials in the CEC Archives. It is hoped that the plan developed by the History Initiative Work Group will provide additional opportunities to share, as well as, preserve the history of CEC and CEC-PD.

Please consider donating to the June Jordan Fund using the form below to assist with this important activity.
